

Contact: Laura Huggins
Tel: 717.441.4690
Email: lhuggins@acbb.com

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

ATLANTIC CENTRAL BANKERS BANK BECOMES ATLANTIC COMMUNITY BANKERS BANK
A New Name to Better Reflect Served Markets

CAMP HILL, PA, August 5, 2013 – Effective August 5, 2013, Atlantic Central Bankers Bank officially changed its name to Atlantic Community Bankers Bank. The bankers bank will continue to offer its correspondent services to the Mid-Atlantic and Northeastern regions but with a “C” that stands for “community” to better suit the community banks it serves.

ACBB began operations as Pennsylvania Independent Bank in 1983 with 68 shareholders. Today it serves over 300 shareholder banks and holds over $550 million in assets.

In 2012, ACBB expanded its market to include the Northeast Region of the United States. The name change better echoes its overall market area. President and CEO Jon Evans said, “We are committed to serving community banks in the Mid-Atlantic and New England. Our dedication to our newest market of New England is stronger than ever, as this refreshed and more inclusive name demonstrates.”

Customers, business partners and others will notice the refreshed logo (above) on printed materials, business cards and on www.acbb.com.

About ACBB

Owned and managed by community bankers for community bankers, Atlantic Community Bankers Bank exists to satisfy community bank correspondent needs, as it has since 1983. ACBB currently serves over 300 shareholder banks and offers a full suite of products and services to meet any local community bank need. For more information, please visit www.acbb.com.

###

If you’d like more information about ACBB’s name change or to schedule an interview with President and CEO Jon Evans, please call Laura Huggins at 717.441.4690 or email Laura at lhuggins@acbb.com.